a WinBoard protocol 2 compliant chess engine written by Severi Salminen in C with some x86 assembly routines, first released in December 2001 ^[1]. As bitboard engine, it uses rotated bitboards to calculate sliding piece attacks, and otherwise applies PVS alpha-beta with null move pruning, mate threat extensions, futility pruning, and SEE inside an iterative deepening framework without aspiration windows ^[2]. Requiem has a simple evaluation function supported by a pawn hash table, and has some sense of pawn islands. It is not aware of repetitions ^[3], and lacks a main transposition table ^[4].
