Jaap van Oosterwijk Bruyn in the 1985 tournament report [\[1\]](#):

The game of Schaak vs. Chess 0.5X was the shortest game of the tournament.

The author of Schaak, Alex van Tiggelen, one of the newcomers, was eager to show that this fast defeat was due to a freak and challenged Chess 0.5X to a second game. To his dismay this game was even shorter than the first one.
